(2) Application Procedure

① Embassy Recommendation (Application through Japanese embassies)

Recruiting covers all scholarship categories. However, because recruiting targets will differ by country and region, potential applicants should check closely with the Japanese embassy in their own specific country or region.

The initial screening is comprised of a document inspection, a written test and an interview. Subjects of the written test vary somewhat by country and region, but generally consist of the following.

Category	Test
Research Students	Japanese, English
Teacher Training Students	Japanese, English
Specialized Training College Students	Japanese, English, Mathematics
Undergraduate Students	Social Sciences and Humanities : Japanese, English, Mathematics Natural Sciences : Japanese, English, Mathematics, Chemistry, one subject from Physics and Biology
College of Technology Students	Japanese, English, Mathematics, Physics or Chemistry
Japanese Studies Students	Japanese

The local Japanese embassies conduct their screening on the basis of these test results, and then make their recommendations to MEXT. MEXT confers with the selection committee, deliberates with the host schools, and then makes its final selections. While candidates may express their preferences for specific schools of study, the final decision will be made by MEXT.

For further details, candidates should contact the Japanese embassy in their own specific country or region.

② Application through Japanese Universities

1 University Recommendation (selection of new applicants before they arrive in Japan)

Based on the university exchange agreement, Japanese universities conduct their examinations of the international student candidates, with recommendations made to MEXT as research students, undergraduate students or Japanese studies students. MEXT confers with the selection committee, and then makes its selections. For further details, candidates should contact their current school of enrollment.

For Young Leaders Program, the recruitment will be conducted through the embassies of Japan in target countries upon the recommendation of recommending authorities. Initial selection will be made through document screening, interviewing, essay writing, etc.. The second selection will be done by YLP Committee set in MEXT, and hence the final decision on candidates.
